ABOUT ME

My name is João Lopes, and I am a multimedia professional. My strongest skills range from working with 3D development software, developing generative visuals using node-based programming, sound design, implementing and building immersive environments, creating brand identities, web development, among others. Additionally, I am also involved in music production, which allows me to create a sym-biosis between sound and visual elements. DJing and VJing are two art forms I enjoy, and they are showcased in the project Echoes of Tomorrow that I developed in 2024, combining music, generative vi-suals, pre-produced animation, and light manipulation.
